Extensive nationwide network

Our PPO network covers you nationwide – and worldwide

- GEHA’s provider network is one of the largest in the United States.
- GEHA’s large network lets you access care at more than 2.7 million in-network provider locations and more than 9,300 hospitals nationwide.
- Your doctor is probably in our network. Want to double-check? Visit geha.com/search
- GEHA members never need a referral to see a specialist.
- If you need medical care outside the United States, GEHA covers that, too.

GEHA stands for you

Our name stands for Government Employees Health Association – and we stand for you. We’re a nonprofit association focused on serving federal employees – and no one else. GEHA has been on the same mission since we were founded in 1937. We use that federally focused tradition to inspire us to provide solutions to the evolving needs of our members.

When you choose a GEHA medical plan, you don’t become a customer.

You become a GEHA member, with access to medical plans and benefits designed with federal employees in mind.

We encourage you to explore what GEHA’s federally focused plans can offer you. Because the more you look, the better we look.

96% of GEHA members choose to stay with us every year.
GEHA’s High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP) pairs our lowest premium with a health savings account (HSA) or a health reimbursement arrangement (HRA). Our GEHA HDHP is a good way to get low-cost medical coverage combined with funds you can use to pay for future qualified medical expenses.

- $0 in-network preventive care and preventive dental treatment – both with no deductible.
- Plan pays 95% of nonpreventive medical services after your deductible is met.
- Full vision benefits are included, in addition to the discounts provided by all of our plans.

A high deductible health plan – with funds from GEHA to lower your net deductible

Even though we call it a High Deductible Health Plan, the deductible isn’t as high as it seems, because GEHA contributes monthly to your account, an amount called a “premium pass-through.”

* If you retire and remain in the HDHP, you may continue to use and accumulate funds in your HRA. If you terminate employment or change health plans, unused funds are forfeited.

Watch your HSA money grow

Unused HSA funds roll over from year to year, from job to job into retirement, so there’s no need to “use them up.”

Keep your HSA money in an interest-bearing savings account, or invest in stocks, bonds and mutual funds.

For benefit definition descriptions, see page 15.

Which type of account do I qualify for?

Check your HSA and HRA eligibility at geha.com/irs969

How and when will my account be funded?

HSA: For most active federal employees who enroll during Open Season, the first monthly HSA deposit will be available as early as February 15, 2019. After that date, a portion of your plan premium will be deposited into your HSA each month.

HRA: For most active federal employees who enroll during Open Season, the full annual HRA deposit is available for qualified medical expenses incurred on or after your effective date in January.

Eligible for Medicare?

If you are on Medicare, this plan does not waive copays and deductibles. However, you may still qualify for an annual plan contribution of up to $1,800. Find out more about how GEHA’s HDHP plan works with an HRA and Medicare at geha.com/hdhp

Definitions

Allowance (negotiated rate or allowed charge)
The cost of health care goods and services after applying the insurance company’s negotiated discount. This amount is lower than providers’ initial billed rates.

Calendar-year deductible
The amount you must pay out of pocket each year before the plan begins to pay benefits. Not all services are subject to the deductible.

Coinsurance
The percentage of costs you pay for a covered health care service, after you’ve met your deductible.

Copay
The amount you pay for a specific service or prescription. A fixed dollar amount.

Net deductible
This is the remaining amount after you subtract the annual premium pass-through from the annual deductible for a High Deductible Health Plan. This is your out-of-pocket cost before plan benefits begin.

Out-of-pocket maximum
The maximum amount you will pay each year for coverage. It includes copays, deductibles and coinsurance, but not premiums. Once you have reached this limit, the plan pays the remainder of your covered health care expenses for the rest of the year.

PPO
A preferred provider organization. PPOs offer members the freedom to choose the doctors, hospitals and other health services they use as long as they are within the organization’s network of providers.

Premium
This is the total amount paid to an insurance company for coverage, typically paid monthly or twice monthly. For federal employees, the premium is paid in part by the government, with the remainder deducted from your paycheck.

Premium pass-through
A portion of your monthly High Deductible Health Plan premium that is used to fund your health savings account (HSA) or health reimbursement arrangement (HRA).

Prescription benefits
Depending on the medication, you will pay a set amount as a copay or a percentage of cost.
