MAKING SENSE OF MEDICARE

Understanding the different parts of Medicare

What is Medicare?

Medicare is health coverage managed by the federal government that you've likely paid into throughout your working years. Adding Medicare coverage may lower your deductibles and copays, reduce overall out-of-pocket costs, provide additional dental and vision benefits and more. But it's important to do your research since each part works differently.

ORIGINAL MEDICARE

Original Medicare includes:

PART A (HOSPITAL COVERAGE)

Covers inpatient hospital care, skilled nursing facility care, and some home health care and hospice care. Most people do not pay a monthly premium for Part A.

PART B (MEDICAL COVERAGE)

Covers doctor visits, outpatient hospital care, lab tests, diagnostic services and durable medical equipment. Part B is voluntary, and has a monthly premium separate from what you pay for a G.E.H.A plan.

You can also choose to add Part D (prescription coverage), offered through private insurance companies approved by Medicare.

When you become eligible for Medicare, you have choices:

- + Keep your FEHB plan as-is
- + Pair your FEHB plan with Medicare Parts A & B
- + Consider the UnitedHealthcare® G.E.H.A Group Medicare Advantage (PPO) Plan, designed to work in place of your coverage with even greater benefits at no additional premium

MEDICARE ADVANTAGE

Original Medicare provides foundational coverage, but it doesn't cover everything. Once your deductible is met, you'll pay 20% coinsurance for many services. There is no annual out-of-pocket maximum, and routine dental, vision and prescription drugs are not automatically included.

PART C

Some retirees choose an alternative to Original Medicare called Medicare Advantage, also known as Part C. They combine Parts A & B, and often include a Part D drug plan.

To enroll in Medicare Advantage, you must be enrolled in Parts A & B.

WHEN TO ENROLL IN MEDICARE

Determining your Medicare enrollment window

For most individuals, Medicare eligibility begins during the Initial Enrollment Period (IEP), which starts three months before your 65th birthday and ends three months after your birthday month.

- + If you are retired when you turn 65, enrolling in Medicare Part B during this window helps you avoid a lifelong late enrollment penalty.
- + If you continue working past age 65 and have health coverage through your employer, you can usually delay enrolling in Medicare Part B and sign up later when you retire without a penalty.

Some people who continue working past 65 choose to enroll in Medicare Part A before they retire. Part A typically has no monthly premium and can help cover hospital stays.

Becoming Medicare-eligible is a qualified life event, which is an opportunity for you to switch health plans outside of Open Season.

You can change your FEHB enrollment to any plan 30 days before turning 65. You may make an enrollment change under this event only once.

G.E.H.A MAKES MEDICARE BETTER

Maximize your retirement health coverage.

G.E.H.A + MEDICARE PARTS A & B

Pairing G.E.H.A Standard or High coverage with Medicare Parts A & B is like having two coverages in one, with Medicare paying first and your G.E.H.A coverage paying second. This can mean no copays, coinsurance or deductibles — dramatically reducing your out-of-pocket costs.

WHICH G.E.H.A PLAN WORKS BEST WITH MEDICARE?

G.E.H.A's Standard and High plans paired with Medicare will help you get the most coverage. Your benefits will include:

- + 100% coverage for all covered Medicare services
- + Valuable extras like a vision discount for glasses and contacts<sup>1</sup>
- + A $2,500 hearing aid benefit
- + G.E.H.A High with Medicare members also receive a $1,000 Part B premium subsidy to help cover Part B premium costs.

G.E.H.A PRESCRIPTION DRUG PLAN PART D

Our Medicare PDP / EGWP provides comprehensive prescription coverage, helping you save on the medications you need — at no additional cost to your G.E.H.A premium.

<sup>1</sup> These benefits are neither offered nor guaranteed under contract with the FEHB Program but are made available to all Enrollees who become members of a G.E.H.A health plan and their eligible family members.

FOUNDED BY FEDERAL EMPLOYEES IN 1937

Our spirit of service dates back nine decades to our founding by railway postal clerks who “passed the hat” to cover each other in times of need. 88 years later, we honor our origin by delivering comprehensive coverage and benefits that go beyond for federal employees, retirees and their families.

Get the coverage that millions of federal employees have counted on through the years

As a member-built organization, our dollars are put back into expanding the coverage that supports and protects those who support and protect our country.
